MEMORANDUM FOR THE INTELLIGENCE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

SUBJECT : Utilization of the Post-Mortems Attached to National Intelligence Estimates

REFERENCE : IAC-M-326, 28 January 1958, which approved that the Chairman, Board of National Estimates, report on the above subject

1. We have surveyed the systems which the components of the IAC currently employ for handling post-mortem findings and recommendations.

2. We conclude that:

(a) All components make good use of the post-mortems. Indeed in most cases we could not suggest any improvement in use;

(b) In some cases, post-mortems could be disseminated more widely, particularly to overseas establishments, so as to advertise more extensively the intelligence deficiencies noted at the level of the NIE; and

(c) The current form of post-mortems, which is limited to a general expression of findings and recommendations, is about right. In almost all cases, the working levels of the components indicated that they have been able to translate general findings into detailed formulations upon which research and/or collection requirements must be based. We do not believe that it would be useful for the Board and your representatives to attempt the task in more detail than at present.
